

Consumer Citizenship Network (CCN)

Since the year 2000 Civic Education Centre participates in the Consumer Education projects, which leading organisations have been the Consumer Protection organisations and educational institutions from the Nordic Countries. As the result and outcome of different successful international Consumer Education projects Ms Victoria Thoresen from Hedmark University (Norway) initiated Consumer Citizenship Network, where the Jaan Tõnisson Institute Civic Education Centre is a member. The aim of the Network is to strengthen international cooperation on the field. Participating in the network offers opportunities to get the most relevant information about the developments in Consumer Education and to hold professional conversations with the colleagues from different countries on the international seminars and conferences.
