

Developing a model for Civics teachers' in-service training course

In 2001 in cooperation with Tallinn Education Department we developed a model of in-service training course for teachers of Civics. The model is based on the acting Civics syllabi in the Estonian National Curriculum and is oriented towards broader introducing of active teaching methods into the Civics teaching process.